INTERRUPTED SLEEP

2025-11-21 - 2025-12-04

a solo exhibition by

MAJA WOLF

EXHIBITION SYNOPSIS

The world around us is perceived subjectively – through the lens of our individual experiences and personal sensitivity.

The world I depict in my paintings is my own story about reality, an attempt to capture what is elusive: the passage of time, the fluidity of boundaries, and the blending of the real and the imaginary – especially in the context of remembered impressions of places.

I do not create new worlds; I portray existing places, capturing them through the prism of legends, associations, and my personal experiences connected to them.

ARTIST BIO

An artist, owner of the Maya Art Gallery in Torun, exhibition curator, and sales director. Since 2009, she has been managing an art-related business, specializing in the marketing and sale of artworks through exhibitions and auctions. She is the organizer and participant of numerous cultural events, art gatherings, workshops, and competitions promoting art in Poland. A drawing and painting instructor, she conducts workshops and lectures at her own gallery and as a guest at other galleries, institutions, and universities. She is the recipient of 50 awards in international art competitions and has participated in exhibitions around the world. Her recent group shows include exhibitions in Barcelona, Geneva, Paris, and Budapest.

ARTIST STATEMENT

I am interested in the urban landscape presented in a completely new and original way - as a labyrinth of memories and subjective impressions of places.
